Abstract:	The Gary W. Royer Collection on Gaming (dating from 1950 to 2009, with the bulk of the materials dating from 1970 to 1995) contains research files, legal files, reports, and manuals about gaming written and collected by Gary W. Royer. The collection includes research and regulatory files collected by Royer while he worked at the Nevada Gaming Control Board. These files primarily document the legislation and regulation of gaming in Nevada, but include information on other states in the US and some international locations. Regulatory files include statutes, codes, regulations, revenue reports, Nevada Gaming Control Board and Nevada Gaming Commission meeting minutes, and tribal-state gaming compacts. Also included are research files about casino, racetrack, and sports betting facilities that include data on organizations, monthly revenue reports, occupancy rates, management and operational control manuals, annual reports, policy and procedure manuals, and profile sheets collected for consulting purposes in Royer's role as President of Casino Control Corporation (CCC), a private gaming consulting firm. Also included are subject and research files, vendor advertisements, catalogs, and reports; gaming industry publications; conference materials; audit guides; and a comprehensive collection of newspaper articles that document the US gaming industry in the second half of the twentieth century.

Biographical Note

Gary W. Royer (1945-) is a Reno, Nevada based Certified Public Accountant (CPA) who served as an auditing agent, supervisor of internal control for the Nevada Gaming Control Board, and President of the Casino Control Corporation. In the 1970s and 1980s, Royer worked with the Nevada Gaming Control Board as an auditing agent and in a supervisory position within the Audit Division. In the late 1970s Royer founded Casino Control Corporation (CCC), a management consulting firm that focused on researching and creating management and internal control procedures for the gaming industry, particularly in Nevada and New Jersey. CCC provided management services to casinos, manufacturers, distributors, regulatory agencies, and attorneys involved in the gaming industry both in the United States and abroad. Throughout his career, Royer collected and created research files about gaming law, gaming regulation, Native American gaming, financial data, and other topics related to gaming.

Administrative Information

Access Note

Collection is open for research. Where use copies do not exist, production of use copies is required before access will be granted; this may delay research requests. Advanced notice is required.

Publication Rights

Materials in this collection may be protected by copyrights and other rights. See Reproductions and Use on the UNLV Special Collections website for more information about reproductions and permissions to publish.

Acquisition Note

In 1995, materials were transferred to UNLV Special Collections by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI) which is part of the William F. Harrah College of Hotel Administration.

Disposition of Materials

Parts of this collection have been removed from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas Libraries Special Collections and Archives' holdings by order of the Nevada Gaming Control Board.

Materials that were returned to the Nevada Gaming Control Board are noted at the file level of the collection inventory. Please contact special.collections@unlv.edu for further information.

Processing Note

Prior to transfer to UNLV Special Collections the collection was organized and described by Betty McNeal, the program manager of the International Game Technology Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute. In 2015, as part of a legacy finding aid conversion project Dallas Reiber rehoused a small portion of the collection and Hana Gutierrez entered a brief description into ArchivesSpace. In 2016 and 2017, as part of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission grant-funded project "America's Great Gamble," Hannah Robinson and Hana Gutierrez processed, arranged, and described the materials. In 2021, Sarah Jones updated the finding aid to reflect the disposition of the collection material by order of the Nevada Gaming Control Board.

Custodial History Note

Materials in this collection that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was initially housed and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. The collection was accepted by UNLV Special Collections with the assumption that all the materials were collected or created by Royer. However, materials that date after 1995 (the year the IGI purchased the original collection from Royer) have an uncertain origin. It is possible that the materials were donated later by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Collection Inventory

Legislative and regulatory files, 1950 to 2009

Physical Description: 29.2 Cubic Feet (40 boxes, 1 flat file)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain municipal, state, federal, Native American, and international gaming legislation, regulations, and legal files collected by Gary W. Royer in his role as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) for the Nevada Gaming Control Board and gaming consultant and President of Casino Control Corporation (1950-2009). The series is comprised primarily of Nevada Gaming Control Board and Nevada Gaming Commission rules, regulations, and reports. Also included are regulations, reports, and handbooks about gaming in other US states, particularly New Jersey and Colorado. This series also includes Native American gaming compacts; regulations, legislation, and legal materials about the regulation of gaming at the US federal level; and essays, legislation, and reports about international gaming regulation.

Arrangement Note: Materials are arranged geographically in the following groupings: US states, US federal, and international. Materials are further arranged alphabetically by state and non-US country.

Custodial History Note: Materials in this series that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was purchased from Royer in 1995 and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. Materials dating after 1995 could have been donated by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Access Note: Collection is open for research. Where use copies do not exist, production of use copies is required before access will be granted; this may delay research requests. Advanced notice is required.

Gaming management and operational control files, 1965 to 2009

Physical Description: 59.97 Cubic Feet (82 boxes, 3 shared boxes, 1 shared flat file)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain manuals, statistics, reports, publications, research files, pamphlets, and newspaper articles created and collected by Gary W. Royer as a Nevada Gaming Control Board auditing agent, gaming consultant, and researcher (1965-2009). The series is primarily comprised of research files about various gaming facilities, mainly in Nevada, that include management and operational control procedure manuals, reports, and statistics. Also included are files about Native American gaming that include management and operational control procedure manuals, reports, and gaming compacts. The series also contains publications and reports created by Royer's company, Casino Control Corporation (CCC). The series also includes manuals and reports about various aspects of casino management and operational control including accounting, auditing, lottery, automatic data processing, keno, and slots.

Arrangement Note: The series is organized into four subseries:

Subseries II.A. Casino, racetrack, sports betting, and hospitality industry facilities and corporations files, 1975-2000;

Subseries II.B. Native American gaming management and operational control files, 1986-2009;

Subseries II.C. Casino Control Corporation publications and reports, 1975-1997;

Subseries II.D. Management and operational control research files, 1965-1998.

Custodial History Note: Materials in this series that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was purchased from Royer in 1995 and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. Materials dating after 1995 could have been donated by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Access Note: Collection is open for research. Where use copies do not exist, production of use copies is required before access will be granted; this may delay research requests. Advanced notice is required.

Native American gaming management and operational control files, 1986-2009

Physical Description: 5.06 Cubic Feet (6 boxes, 2 shared boxes)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain management and operational control procedure manuals, reports, and gaming compacts (1986-2009) from various Native American nations collected by Gary W. Royer. The subseries includes reports and manuals for operations at the Tulalip Resort Casino operated by the Tulalip Tribes of Washington. Also included are legislation, reports, and newspaper articles about the legalization and regulation of Native American gaming at the US federal level.

Arrangement Note: Materials are arranged geographically, first by US state, followed by materials with a national scope.

Custodial History Note: Materials in this subseries that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was purchased from Royer in 1995 and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. Materials dating after 1995 could have been donated by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Gaming industry vendor files, 1967-2000

Physical Description: 7.39 Cubic Feet (9 boxes, 3 shared boxes)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain brochures, booklets, informational packets, catalogs, company profiles, video recordings, machine motherboard schematics, operator manuals, and advertisements (1967-2000) produced by casino industry vendors and collected by Gary W. Royer. The materials are primarily comprised of data about gaming suppliers, manufacturers, and distributors that include company profiles, categorization of business type, notes, and records of owners and key employees.

Arrangement Note: Materials are arranged alphabetically by company name.

Custodial History Note: Materials in this series that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was purchased from Royer in 1995 and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. Materials dating after 1995 could have been donated by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Access Note: Collection is open for research. Where use copies do not exist, production of use copies is required before access will be granted; this may delay research requests. Advanced notice is required.

Gaming research files, 1960-2008

Physical Description: 51.95 Cubic Feet (69 boxes, 3 shared boxes, 1 shared flat file)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain subject files, publications, newspaper articles, conference materials, and seminar coursebooks (1960-2008) collected by Gary W. Royer. The subject files are primarily comprised of brochures, video recordings, articles, and advertisements about the gaming industry. The publications include nationally circulating gaming newsletters, as well as booklets, essays, and magazines about the US gaming industry. The conference materials are primarily comprised of brochures, information packets, and copies of presentations from gaming conferences. Also included are seminar course books and video recordings produced by the University of Nevada, Las Vegas International Gaming Institute (IGI).

Arrangement Note: The series is organized into five subseries:

Subseries IV.A. Subject files, 1963-1995;

Subseries IV.B. Publications, 1960-2008;

Subseries IV.C. Newspaper clippings, 1979-1997;

Subseries IV.D. Gaming industry conference and seminar files, 1978-2003;

Subseries IV.E. University of Nevada, Las Vegas International Gaming Institute files; 1993-2002.

Custodial History Note: Materials in this series that date after 1995 have an uncertain origin. This collection was purchased from Royer in 1995 and maintained by the International Game Technology (IGT) Gaming Resource Center, a division of the UNLV International Gaming Institute (IGI), before it was transferred to UNLV Special Collections. Materials dating after 1995 could have been donated by Royer himself, but it is also possible that the IGT Gaming Resource Center staff continued to build on Royer's collection, intermixing additional materials into the original collection.

Access Note: Where use copies do not exist, production of use copies is required before access will be granted; this may delay research requests. Advanced notice is required.

Subject files, 1963-1995

Physical Description: 4.69 Cubic Feet (4 boxes, 3 shared boxes)

Scope and Contents Note: Materials contain brochures, video recordings, articles, and advertisements (1963-1995) about the gaming industry in the US, particularly in Nevada, collected by Gary W. Royer. Topics include tourism in Nevada, problem gambling, gambling strategies, and Native American gaming.

Arrangement Note: Materials are arranged alphabetically by subject.
